

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

As Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest, what right do they have to do this. When large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy.

You need to stop placing all media in one or two pockets as it leads to this type of 'censorship'. Strengthen media ownership rules, do not weaken them. Thank you.
